

Claude Monet

Inspired by Bridge over a pond of Water Lilies

Project: Students create their own version of Monet's water lilies using overlaying pieces of tissue paper.

Supplies: 1 piece card stock, stripes of tissue paper approximately 1" wide in blues and greens, small squares of Tissue paper in assorted bright colors, black and white drawing of a bridge, yellow or brown crayons and glue sticks

Directions: Draw and copy a simple bridge, cut it out and have the students color it with crayons. Have the students glue blue, green and white tissue strips on to the cardstock. Encourage them to overlap the tissue to create new colors. Have the students glue bridge across paper and then have them crumple tissue under bridge to emulate water lilies.
